1 A HOUSE RESOLUTION HONORING THE MEMORY OF UNITED STATES MARINE
2 CORPS OFFICERS, COLONELS RICHARD B. NEWPORT AND DEAN WILKER; 3 LIEUTENANT COLONELS ERNEST J. ANDERSON, GEORGE J. ERTLMEIER, 4 HOWARD GRESS, JAMES E. MAY, DOUGLAS A. MCCAUGHEY, JAMES D.
5 ROBERTSON, AND CLARENCE E. SMITH; MAJORS THOMAS NALLE AND 6 KENNETH H. STOVER; CAPTAINS MARX H. BRANUM, STEPHEN J. PERLIN, 7 HERMAN SMITH, AND ROBERT F. WARREN; FIRST LIEUTENANTS ROBERT J.
8 LYONS AND ROBERT WILLIAMS; SECOND LIEUTENANT DONALD MARLOWE;
9 AND WARRANT OFFICER 4 BILLY E. PERRY; AND UNITED STATES AIR FORCE 10 COLONEL JAMES H. WESTBERRY FOR THEIR SERVICE TO THE UNITED 11 STATES MILITARY AND TO THE MARINE ALL-WEATHER FIGHTER SQUADRON
12 THREE ONE TWO.

13 Whereas, 50 years ago, the United States Marine Corps determined that Lieutenant 14 Colonel Dean Wilker, and later Lieutenant Colonel Richard B. Newport, would organize and 15 deploy Marine All-Weather Fighter Squadron Three One Two (VMF (AW)-312) from Marine 16 Corps Air Station El Toro, California, to the Fleet Marine Forces Pacific; and

17 Whereas, Lieutenant Colonel Newport, a Korean War veteran, began an 18-month
18 process to prepare the VMF (AW)-312 "Checkerboards" for combat. Majors Ernest J.
19 Anderson, George J. Ertlmeier, Howard Gress, and James E. May were assigned as the 20 principal staff officers; and

21 Whereas, the first six months of preparation involved joining and detaching officers 22 and enlisted to reach organizational standards. The next year was devoted to training for 23 air-to-air combat operations in all-weather conditions both day and night, air-to-ground
24 weapons delivery in support of Marine ground troops, strafing and air-to-air gunnery, aerial 25 refueling, day and night carrier operations, and amphibious embarkation to enable the squadron 26 to deploy rapidly wherever it was needed; and

27 Whereas, as these Marines were deployed for a routine 13-month unaccompanied 28 combat tour, their families had to learn how to adjust to their absence; and

29 Whereas, on January 1, 1965, the Checkerboards began to deploy from Marine 30 Corps Air Station El Toro to Marine Corps Air Station Atsugi, Japan, and, upon arrival, 31 accepted 21 F8U-1E "Crusader" aircraft; and

32 Whereas, the Crusader was a single engine, single pilot, supersonic, all-weather 33 fighter plane. Every pilot in the squadron had flown the Crusader at 1,000 miles per hour in

1 level flight. The F8s and their pilots were called "The Last of the Gunfighters" because the 2 cockpit of their planes sat over four internal 20mm cannons; and

3 Whereas, halfway through its tour, on June 26, 1965, the squadron relocated to 4 Marine Corps Air Station Iwakuni, Japan, and joined two pilots; and

5 Whereas, on December 19, 1965, the squadron was ordered to introduce the first 6 F8s into the First Corps Area of the Republic of Vietnam. The squadron joined Marine Aircraft
7 Group Eleven of the First Marine Aircraft Wing at Danang, Republic of Vietnam, with 21
8 officers, 175 enlisted, and 18 F8s. This was a milestone event as the Marine air-ground team 9 now had their best single engine fighter in the country supporting Marine ground troops while 10 another Marine All-Weather Fighter Squadron, VMF (AW)-212, was flying sorties over North 11 Vietnam from the aircraft carrier Oriskany; and

12 Whereas, while at Danang, the Checkerboards flew 718 combat sorties. On January 13 31, 1966, the squadron completed its tour and was disbanded. The officers and men returned to 14 military and civilian lives and their aircrafts were reassigned to Marine Fighter Squadron Two 15 Three Five, VMF (AW)-235. The squadron color was delivered to Marine Corps Air Station
16 Beaufort, South Carolina, and the squadron was reactivated as Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 17 Three One Two (VMFA-312); Now, therefore,
18 Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

19 SECTION 1. The House of Representatives expresses its appreciation to the 20 officers and enlisted of the Marine All-Weather Fighter Squadron Three One Two for their 21 service during the Vietnam War.

27 Perlin, Herman Smith, and Robert F. Warren; First Lieutenants Robert J. Lyons and Robert 28 Williams; Second Lieutenant Donald Marlowe; and Warrant Officer 4 Billy E. Perry; and 29 United States Air Force Colonel James H. Westberry for their roles in helping the Marine 32 the Commandant of the United States Marine Corps.

33 SECTION 4. This resolution is effective upon adoption.
